

"All connected?" the exhibition developed by NANOYOU is moving to Cité des sciences et de l'industrie in Paris. Since its opening last October at CCSTI Grenoble, the exhibition has received thousands of visitors and several public events have been organized.

From the 12th April until the end of the year, "All connected?" will be at the Tech Gallery of the Cité des sciences et de l'industrie where visitors will be able to see some of the materials developed by youngsters within the NANOYOU workshops and the picture competition.